

In-flight cell phone conversations should NOT be allowed. I think they would be completely disruptive to what has become a very tense experience since 9/11. I'm having a difficult time understanding why anyone imagines this would be a good idea.